

The following screenshot shows Girl Scouts of Greater New York honoring Christine Quinn as a past recipient of the Girl Scouts' Women of Distinction Award. Quinn is featured as one of their all time favorite awardees and as a "role model of ethical leadership". You can also visit the original link here <http://www.girlscoutsnyc.org/wod> and scroll to "About the Women of Distinction Breakfast"

www.girlscoutsnyc.org/wod

About the Women of Distinction Breakfast

Each autumn, the Girl Scout Council of Greater New York gathers on or around Girl Scout founder Juliette Gordon Low's birthday to honor Women of Distinction who serve as role models of ethical leadership for the girls we serve. We also honor one extraordinary Girl Scout each year who represents the ideals inherent in Girl Scouting with the Future Woman of Distinction Award.

Over the Women of Distinction Breakfast's 21-year history we have honored many extraordinary women. Our list of past honorees includes Maria Bartiromo, Trish McEvoy, Christine Quinn, Deborah Roberts, and Vera Wang to name a few.