The Population Council: Develops, tests, and introduces new contraceptive options, including IUDs, implants, rings, and more. Council researchers currently are evaluating the acceptability of the progesterone vaginal ring, a user-controlled contraceptive for lactating women, and exploring how best to introduce this new technology. The Council is also developing a new, one-year contraceptive vaginal ring that will provide protection for 13 menstrual cycles. <http://www.popcouncil.org/topics/fps.asp>
